Please note that Winter Green Farm does not provide housing or food (beyond farm produce) for workers. Eugene is the nearest city with many housing options. Finding housing nearer the farm is possible, but often challenging. By car, the farm is located approximately 25 – 40 minutes away from Eugene, depending on what part of town you are coming from. Usually there are one or more carpools coming from Eugene to the farm for most of the season; however this is not always the case. Workers need to have the ability to get to work by themselves if necessary. There is no way to use public transportation to commute to the farm.
